Record numbers at Gould's 150th

A year in the planning, and the culmination of 10 months of celebration, Gould Academy's sesquicentennial weekend set attendance records on Saturday, Oct. 4.

Over 500 alumni and family members attended the buffet lunch and annual meeting held in the field house, and over 450 were at the reception and banquet also held in the field house. In total, the registration desk reported that over 600 participated in some part of the weekend's festivities.

Special activities included an alumni/varsity cross-country race, which the veterans won with ease; a slide presentation entitled "Gould: The First 150" by Dr. Stanley Howe '82, director of the Bethel Historical Society; the dedication of the Jane Greig Barth '59 Memorial Bell Tower, a volunteer project conceived and constructed by the Alumni Board to house the original school bell and to honor Mrs. Barth; and a parade of all classes, led by the Norwich University Jazz Band and parade marshal and Alumnus-of-the-Year, E. Oscar Judkins '11. Mr. Judkins was celebrating his 75th reunion, a landmark representing exactly one-half of Gould's history.

Mr. Judkins was honored at the luncheon, along with former and present faculty.

The theme of Gould's year-long sesquicentennial is "Great Teaching" and an appropriate time to recognize the faculty for their commitment to the Academy's students over the years. Also significant was the fact that Mr. Judkins had found "more satisfaction in working with people rather than machines" and had therefore himself been a teacher and superintendent of schools.

At the evening's banquet the Class of 1936 was honored on the occasion of their golden reunion. To the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," 19 members of the class, donning mortar boards with tassels, received their honorary 50-year diplomas from Headmaster Bill Clough.

19 receive 50-year Gould diplomas

Nineteen members of Gould Academy's class of 1936 received honorary 50-year diplomas at the annual banquet held last Saturday evening in the Farnsworth Fieldhouse.

Members of the golden anniversary class returning to the campus to be honored were: Lillian Judkins Abbott, Eslyn Warren Bartlett, Stanley L. Brown, Rosalind Rowe Chapman, Phyllis Davis Dock, Mildred Vail Dolph, George M. Gilbert, Dorothy Irish Hasey, Sally King Huston, Alfred W. Lovejoy, Elizabeth Raynes Marshall, Marjorie Berry Menzies, Persis Adams Palik, Ernest Perkins, Eleanor Learned Pugliese, Esther Wheeler Strughold, Verna Grover Thayer, Rose Sweatt Travers, and Arthur Whitman.

and Alumni Association President Marcia Savage McGee '61.

At the conclusion of the banquet, the "150th" fireworks display was set off from the athletic field, despite the drizzle. After the finale, alumni journeyed to the Bethel Inn Conference Center for the alumni dance, with music provided by the Norwich University Jazz Band, James Bennett '61, director.

Numerous class parties, picnics and brunches were held throughout the weekend, and an alumni memorial church service was held at the West Parish Congregational Church on Sunday morning.

On Sunday, the sun appeared and the beauty of the fall foliage signalled a fitting end to an exciting and memorable weekend.

Bank gets go-ahead to leave West Paris

The Bethel Savings Bank, last Thursday, received approval from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, in Boston, to close its branch bank in West Paris and open a new branch in South Paris.

Bank officials have said the move will be made next spring. They have said the move is necessary in order to better serve the entire Oxford Hills area, which area is a major growth area for the banking business.

Many West Paris residents—especially elderly residents—have protested the bank's move out of the village. A group of residents will meet Monday to consider organizing a search committee to find another bank willing to operate a branch in town.

The meeting will be at the fire station, at 7 p.m.

NLRB mulls union cases

The National Labor Relations Board regional office, in Boston, is currently examining three recent charges brought by Local 900 of the United Paperworkers International Union against the Boise Cascade mill in Rumford.

NLRB supervisor Joe Kane told The Citizen the union recently appealed the agency's earlier dismissal of a charge filed July 17 that Boise bargained in bad faith prior to the strike. (The union went out on strike July 1, after turning down a federal mediator's appeal that the contract talks be extended for 10 days. The strike lasted 76 days.)

Mr. Kane said it will be three or four weeks before the appeal is settled.

Also before the agency are two new charges—filed after the union finally ratified the contract, Sept. 14. One alleges that the talks never reached an impasse and therefore Boise was not justified in hiring 342 replacement workers. The other alleges that Boise guards acted improperly in restricting strikers' activities during the strike.

Those two charges will be decided by Oct. 22, Mr. Kane said.

GOULD ALUMNUS-OF-THE-YEAR OSCAR JUDKINS (Class of 1911) told the more than 500 alumni and guests at Saturday's luncheon, "When I came here I first learned to make friends. It was a friendly school. And that's one reason I like people better than I like machines. I like machines well enough (however)." Headmaster Bill Clough (left) and artist Herbert Waters (right) obviously enjoyed the remarks.

W. Paris appeals board grants two variances

With little discussion, the West Paris Appeals Board granted two variances following a public hearing last Wednesday night.

A variance was granted Raymond and Barbara Farr to put a trailer on their lot on High Street. The position of the trailer will be closer than ordinarily permitted to the road, but it will be in a similar position to a trailer that was on the property some years ago.

The Town Office was granted a variance to build a barrier-free entrance to the town office, which will be closer to the road than ordinarily permitted.

Town officials have already advertised for bids for the project but received no responses. Selectman Judy McLaughlin says the project will be deferred till spring.

Another project—making repairs to the town garage—was also put out to bid, and also received no bidders. Mrs. McLaughlin said the work cannot be put off and officials will seek a carpenter to do the job.

Newry might appoint law enforcement officer

Officials of Sunday River Ski Resort have asked the Newry Board of Selectmen to appoint William Dooliver as a constable. The skiway officials would like to send Mr. Dooliver—a skiway employee—to the state police academy in order to use him as a law enforcement officer during the ski season.

Newry selectmen yesterday (Tuesday) deferred action on the request and notified the skiway they would like to interview Mr. Dooliver before they decide whether to appoint him as constable.

Selectman Roger Hanscom said the town has a badge that could be worn with a constable's uniform, although the town has never appointed a law enforcement officer.

Richard Smith, of the Department of Human Services, met with the selectmen yesterday to go over the town's welfare caseload and the paperwork. The town has very few welfare cases.

The selectmen discussed an invitation from the superintendent of schools to have someone from town sit in with the district's finance committee as next year's budget is prepared. The selectmen didn't appoint anyone yet.

Pam Conkright talked with the selectmen about forming a group of first responders in town. Ideally the town would have a few first responders in each section of town. The first responders would be the first people to the scene of

Mr. Carter said the seasonal shortage is also being worsened by the recent drought in the south. Because southern cows were unable to make as much milk as needed, milk was being shipped to the south from the north and the Midwest.

Mr. Carter said he doubts that the recent nationwide milk strike had much to do with the shortage, although, he said, "I'm sure the strikers will claim success." (No local dairymen took part in the strike.)

Bethel landfill rates likely to jump again for neighbor towns

The rates charged by the Town of Bethel for use of the landfill by the towns of Newry and Hanover seem likely to go up again. The selectmen discussed the matter at their regular meeting Monday night, finally instructing the town manager to come up with a rate structure that would reflect market value for the service.

The landfill use fees to the neighboring towns more than doubled last year, after a study by Bethel officials revealed that the cost of operating the dump (and planning for its eventual closure) was increasing rapidly.

Bethel selectmen Monday night pointed out that the rapid development of homes and condos in Newry means the landfill use by that town will increase sharply. While no estimates of the ultimate fee structures were made, a number of town officials mentioned a possible fee of $20,000 for Newry. (This year's user fee was $12,500.) The officials noted that the Bethel landfill is a bargain for anyone using it, compared to any other alternative.

The selectmen approved the existing rates for the use of town trucks by outside entities. The rate structure will be good until the end of 1987. Rates were also approved for fire service. Ambulance service rates may be amended to reflect the history of usage by out-of-town entities.

The selectmen set a public hearing to discuss banning parking on Broad Street, from Mason Street to Paradise, on the side of the street across from The Bethel Inn. The hearing will be at the next regular session of the board, Oct. 20.

The board also discussed the feasibility of using the fire station parking lot for public parking.

The board appointed John Todd to fill the vacancy on the Budget Committee.

Simmons Repair wins plowing bid in Andover

Simmons Repair was the low bidder to plow the streets and driveways within the town limits of Andover. The bid was $2,976, the selectmen announced this week.

The town pickup will plow driveways in E. Andover, they said.

The selectmen, and interested residents, will meet with Fergus Lea, of the Androscoggin Valley of Governments, Thursday, at 6:30 p.m., downstairs in the town hall. They will discuss procedures to follow in applying for the federal block grant for downtown rehabilitation.

The town has been awarded $10,000 by the state to hire planners to help design the block grant application. A special town meeting will be held next Thursday, Oct. 16, to see if the voters will accept the state money and agree to go forward with the application process.

A citizens' advisory committee is being formed to help formulate the grant proposal.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is the time of year I get most homesick for Maine. I miss the smell of autumn in the air and the sight of the many colors of leaves on the mountains in my hometown of Newry.

I have a very special request which I hope you and your readers can fulfill. Could you please ask them to send me some variety of leaves. (I'll take all that you can get sent to me.)

There are many reasons for (this request) but to simplify matters I'll simply tell you that it is amazing how many children (and adults) have never seen what we took for granted when I was growing up in western Maine.

Please have your readers send them to me c/o the address below. Thank you so much.

Newry planning board accepts application

The application of Nancy Martin for a 40 unit town house condominium development, to be known as the Barker Brook Development, was accepted as complete at the regular meeting of the Newry Planning Board Oct. 2.

The planning board will meet at the site, near Coombs Village, Oct. 16, at 4 p.m. for an on-site inspection, then go to the town office to discuss the project.

A public hearing will be held Wednesday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. at the town office to discuss the development.

Much concern has been expressed over the traffic hazard which many believe would be caused by the intersection of the proposed road to the development and the Skway Access Road.

Some feel there should be a moratorium on new developments until work on the comprehensive plan is completed, while some favor a slow growth ordinance.

The planning board has completed study of the survey questionnaires for the comprehensive plan and it is nearly ready for typist. The survey shows that a majority of persons favor a moratorium or slow growth ordinance.

The planning board plans to give final approval, or denial, to the application for the Barker Brook Development at their next regular meeting, which will be held at the Town Office, Nov. 5, at 7 p.m.

Editor's Corner

Gould Academy's celebration of its sesquicentennial last weekend attracted over 500 of its alumni to the campus.

Threatening skies with intermittent sunshine did little to dampen enthusiasm Saturday, as alumni gathered to great old friends and to see what changes had been wrought at the scene of their "school days free."

Personally, the honoring of Oscar Judkins as alumnus-of-the-year brought particular bittersweet memories to mind. Mr. Judkins, of the class of 1911, was a classmate of my father in those days of three quarters of a century ago. Following the noon luncheon I asked Mr. Judkins if he remembered Carl Brown. "Yes," he answered, "I remember Carl, he was my best friend (at Gould)."

I still remember my father speaking of Oscar but whether it was in reference to their days at Gould or something that happened at a summer class reunion during the ensuing years, I truthfully can not recall. We do not pay close enough attention when we are younger to the living history transpiring about us everyday. As one grows older and returns for alumni gatherings, people are seen and spoken to, and of, who trigger memories of people and events long-since banished to the remotest catacombs of the human consciousness. To recall events and friends of years past with those whom we shared a portion of our lives oftentimes is the tonic that shakes the cobwebs from the rafters of our thinking processes and makes us realize that there will be a tomorrow.

We shared those days at Gould with our parents, our classmates and their families. This sharing of years long since past, in many cases this nostalgia of what we view as simpler times, is what draws us back year after year.

In these days of pragmatic "telling it like it is," nostalgia is frequently considered a dirty word, of no practical use. It is useful when used to refresh our spirit, and to "gird our loins" for the battles of life still to come. It is useless when we become so enmeshed in it that we seek to live our lives there.

Those attending the festivities at Gould last weekend greeted old friends and teachers; honored fellow alumni, present and former teachers; and wished the school well as it moves forward to its bicentennial in 2036, 50 years hence.

Many of those attending the celebration felt again the thoughts contained in the last lines of the third verse of Gould's Alma Mater as penned by Dr. Frank E. Hanscom, long-time principal, many years ago—"Long may the 'Gould and Blue,' and thy blest motto, too, 'To thine ownself be true,' guide me and mine."

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, is endeavoring to frequently bring to you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

Ellen's house was directly across from the hospital. She and her family lived in the downstairs and rented the upstairs rooms to outpatients at the hospital. One evening, as she was fixing supper, there was a knock at the door. She opened it to see a truly awful looking old man.

"Why he's hardly taller than my seven year old," she thought as she stared at the stooped little body.

But the appalling thing was his face—lopsided from swelling, red and raw. Yet his voice was very pleasant as he said, "Good evening, I'd like to rent a room for just one night. I came for a treatment at the hospital this morning and there is no bus till morning. I've been trying to find a room since noon, but I guess it's my face they're scared of."

For a moment Ellen hesitated, but his next words convinced her, "I could sleep in this rocking chair on the porch. My bus leaves early in the morning."

She told him they would find him a bed, but to rest on the porch awhile. After she

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

"I must say in truth that she is in high carriage, beautiful in a grave way, somewhat gameness and given to lightness of manner among her lords as with other company, very quick-witted to answer back, and addicted to mirth and dancing, wherewith she hath made both converts to her cause among those most disaffected, though there be also those found to say the manners might more besem the stews or places of low resort than so ancient a palace and line and the whispers against her name are not justified by what she is in herself, but only by her manner, which she hath brought from France."

finished getting supper she asked the old man if he would join them. "No thank you, I have plenty," and he held up a brown paper bag.

After supper Ellen went out on the porch to talk with him a few minutes. It didn't take long to see that this old man had an oversized heart in that tiny body. He told Ellen how he had fished for a living to support his daughter and her four children. He didn't tell it by way of complaint, ever other sentence was prefaced with a thanks to God for blessing. He was grateful he was in no pain and he thanked God for giving him the strength to keep going.

When Ellen got up in the morning the bed linens were folded, his room was spotless and he was getting ready to leave. Very timidly he asked Ellen if he could stop here next time he came to have treatment. "I promise not to bother you. Your four children made me feel at home. Adults are bothered by my face but children don't seem to mind."

She told them he was welcome to come again. On his next trip he arrived a little after six in the morning. As a gift he brought them some fish and a quart of the largest oysters she had ever seen. In the years he came to stay overnight with them, there never was a time that he did not bring fish or oysters or vegetables from his garden. Other times we received packages in the mail, always by special delivery. Knowing that he must walk three miles to mail these and how little money he had, made the gifts doubly precious.

Every time she received these gifts she thought of a remark her next door neighbor made after the old man left that first morning, "Did you keep that awful

Fall Line Condominium to be finished Oct. 30th

The Fall Line Condominium at Sunday River Ski Resort is now three-quarters complete and should be 100 percent completed on Oct. 30, according to company officials.

Last month, new owners closed on the 32 one-bedroom units in the South Wing of the four-wing condominium. On hand for the closing were Bill Cramton, Michele Varuolo and Kim Nelson, of the Sunday River Realty office; Jim Delamater and Mary Ann Brown, of the Bethel Savings Bank, and David Nelson, representing Central Maine Power's "Good Cents" program. Mr. Nelson presented "Good Cents Certificates" to all the new homeowners.

The Fall Line Condominium is Sunday River's largest condominium complex. The 128 unit owners enjoy such amenities as a heated indoor swimming pool, jacuzzi and saunas; recreation and video room; laundry room; and a large common living room with a television and fireplace. Fall Line Restaurant, overlooking the pool area, is open to the public during the ski season, offering a traditional Down East seafood menu.

In addition to Fall Line, the South Ridge Townhouses, North Peak Condominiums and Merrill Brook Village II, all currently under construction, are on schedule to be completed for this season, bringing the total of ski-in/ski-out on-slope condominiums at Sunday River Ski Resort to 424.

looking old man last night? I turned him away. You can lose business by putting up such people!"

And maybe they did, but if they only knew him, perhaps their troubles would have been easier to bear. Ellen's family learned, as we should, to accept the bad without complaint and the good with gratitude to God. Their lives were never the same after befriending this old man.

Mime group appearing at Telstar tomorrow

The Kitchen Sink Mime Theater, from Portsmouth, N.H., will be in Bethel tomorrow (Thursday) to give two special programs.

First, students from all the district elementary schools will attend a workshop-demonstration given by the artists, at Telstar on Thursday morning. The students will be introduced to the idea and experience of mime, with the hope that they will be able to attend the performance Thursday night at Gould Academy.

That performance begins with a series of short mimed vignettes and ends with a play called "The Boy Who Found Fear." The public is invited to attend. There is no charge.

The performance begins at 7:30 in Bingham Hall, on Church Street.

The Kitchen Sink Mime Theater's two programs in Bethel are being funded, in part, by a grant from the Bingham Betterment Fund, the National Endowment for the Arts, and the Maine Arts Commission, through the New England Foundation for the Arts.

The creators of Kitchen Sink Mime Theater are Dennis McLaughlin and Genevieve Aichele. They have received wide acclaim for their ability to synthesize a variety of mime styles and for their very special audience rapport.

BETHEL LANDFILL RATES

The board extended for six months the lease with One-Pie Canning Co., of West Paris, for the small, side office in the Cole Block. The lease will be good through June 1987.

The selectmen directed the sewer department foreman to instruct The Bethel Inn where to tie in the sewer line from their planned golf course condominiums. The two alternatives are the Mill Hill sewer line or the Broad Street sewer line.

The Eden Ridge developers will be at the next meeting of the Board of Selectmen seeking approval of their sewer plans. The approval is needed before they submit their final plan to the Planning Board.

The selectmen would like to have an engineer look at the plans before they are presented to the board.

In response to an invitation from the superintendent of schools of SAD #44 to send a representative to the school board's finance committee budget-workup sessions, the selectmen decided to first get together with the other towns of the district to discuss a unified approach towards the school budget.

WEST BETHEL Children's Center

Thirty-two children are enrolled in the Day Care and Head Start programs at the center this fall. This year's group ranges in age from three to six.

All of the children have been involved in a variety of activities the past few weeks. Both of the early childhood development programs run simultaneously, utilizing the entire school space and a teaching staff of five.

The staff plans activities to enrich and stimulate children in the areas of emotional, social, physical, and intellectual development. The staff also focuses teaching in the areas of communication, health and nutrition, and puts strong emphasis on individual creative expression.

The teaching staff's general goals are to enhance a child's natural development through providing him or her many opportunities to succeed and to learn how to cooperate with peers and adults.

The center also encourages parent participation in whatever ways they are able to contribute. The staff believes strongly in a family-centered approach to education. Parents and teachers working together create the "magic" of positive change in children's lives.

The past two weeks, the children have been very busy with many hands-on experiences embracing the season of fall. Children have created fall collages, printed fall apples, used crayon rubbings for fall leaves, pasted fall apple "puzzles," drawn chalk trees, and they

SANDY RIVER REALTY OPENS RUMFORD OFFICE

Century 21 Sandy River Realty has opened a new office at 1000 Prospect Avenue and Route 2 in Rumford. The company has just completed renovations of an attractive New England farmhouse in order to continue to provide the expanded real estate services they have been offering to greater Oxford and Franklin counties since February of this year when three Rumford real estate brokers joined the Farmington-based firm.

The new office is staffed by receptionist/secretary Jodi St. Cyr of Rumford, Lane K. Jarvis (broker) of Rumford and Farmington, Janice Reid (associate broker) of Rumford, and Doug and Louise Nash (associate brokers) of Dixfield.

Railroadiana winds up second season

The Bethel Area Steam Era Railroadiana Museum closed for the season Sept. 14 after another successful summer season. Irene Pike staffed the museum weekends from June to September with midweek hours staffed by volunteers. Visitors from Portland, Maine, to California toured the collection which is highlighted by a 900 lb. smokestack torn away in a mighty crash which occurred in Gilead. Other memorabilia and artifacts include original waybills and tickets from the 1800s, conductors' lanterns, and railroad models. The collection of Grand Trunk memorabilia has been moved for winter storage to make way for the medical and hospital supply storage for the new Bethel Area Health Center.

The building committee of BASER is currently searching for a site to permanently house the collection. The fall and winter season will be devoted to fundraising and future building and site development. Anyone interested in becoming a member of BASER should contact either Wendie Gray at 824-2187, John Todd at 824-2161 or Sandy Strickland at 824-2810.

will be baking fall goodies. They are also studying monarch butterflies, learning finger plays and many new songs, and listening to teachers read books about the season.

The children had a wonderful trip to Stearn's apple orchard, in Albany. Mr. Wing guided the group as they picked four different varieties of apples and learned many interesting facts about how apples grow and how to pick them. Mr. Wing was very generous with his time, his knowledge, and his apples.

Children will also be visiting the Korhonen apple orchard in the center's own West Bethel neighborhood and are looking forward to it.

Special thanks to Lyon Apple Orchards for their donation of apples. Thanks to Kyle, too. Thanks to the ever-popular Yogi, super bus driver and friend, who shared his bus and time with the children. Thanks to Mr. Rugs for their donation of a ball rug. Thanks to Amy Smith and Debby Perry, for consenting to transporting Head Start children home and doing such a fine job. Thanks to Lillian Brooks, into her second year as a super classroom volunteer.

The center is still accepting applications for this year's Head Start program. If you have a child who will be four on or before Oct. 15 and are interested in the program, call the center for an application.

The center will also accept applications throughout the year for the Day Care program. Parents who are employed, actively seeking employment, attending school full- or part-time, or in a family crisis situation and are interested in the Day Care program can also call the center for further information.

The center's hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, year-round. The phone number is 836-3700. Children's Center menu—Oct. 13-17: Monday: Center closed—no school. Connections

Connections: A Women's Resource and Support Center welcomes the public to attend their next program, Monday, Oct. 13, at the Bethel Area Health Center at 7 p.m. Debbie Dembski, coordinator of REACH (Rape Educational and Counseling Hotline) will show a film, "Re-Thinking Rape," an exploration of the forces and attitudes in our culture that make acquaintance rape so commonplace. A discussion will follow.

As background, a few facts—1 in 3 women will be raped in her lifetime. A woman is more apt to report a car theft than a rape. In more than 75 percent of reported rapes, the rapist is someone the woman knows—a boyfriend, neighbor, family friend. And most women who survive a so-called "acquaintance rape" report it neither to the police nor anyone else since they consider it a very private, personal, embarrassing affair.

The purpose of the REACH program is to educate the public and lessen the silence of sexual assault victims. REACH also maintains a 24-hour hotline for sexual assault victims—past and present, 743-9777.

Connections is a newly-formed group open to all women in western Oxford County. The purpose of the group is "to provide the opportunity for rural women to share and celebrate their lifestyles, experiences, skills and interests through education, support, resources, and information." Meetings are held every two weeks. There are several levels of involvement for those interested in such a group. For more information, call Katina Colombatos, 665-2755, or Diana LaPointe, 369-0180.

The Wilson family, Denny, Rita, David, Doug, and Jodie, and all of Denny's crew went to Woodsmen's Day at Fryeburg Fair.

Howard and Mildred Emery, who were up from Westbrook at their camp, and Joe and Muriel Gilbert visited back and forth. The Gilberts were in New Hampshire on Tuesday and Lewiston on Wednesday.

Stanley Wilson and Edith Deegan visited Irene Wilson, Monday, and Gloria Wilson was out, Friday.

Robert Deegan came down from Randolph, N.H., and took Joe Deegan to Fryeburg Fair with him.

Leslie's mother, Cys Clark, of Litchfield, Conn., spent a week with the Moore family. They went to the Fryeburg Fair on Sunday.

Monday evening, Patrick Harrington and Ryan Bernier, Locke Mills, of Troop 565 had their Star Board of Review held at the Advance Chairman John Eliot's home. Both boys could be Eagle Scouts in a couple of years for they are within two ranks now.

Last Saturday, Janice Harrington, Unit Commissioner for Pack 565, held a re-organizational meeting, which resulted in the selection of a new cubmaster, assistant cubmaster, committee members, den leaders, and assistant den leaders.

The neighborhood feels proud of having two new scouts, Nathan Moore and Eben Smith, who are starting their scouting career. We will be watching their progress with anticipation and wish them luck.

Ronnie Smith has joined the pack as a committee member.

Hanover's annual town meeting took place Monday, Sept. 20, at the Town House. About 20 voters attended the 7 p.m. meeting to decide upon town business for the 1986-87 year. Norman Ferguson, Jr., was selected as moderator for the meeting which lasted just over one hour.

Officers elected were Raymond Chase Sr. as selectman for three years, and Mary Corkum as a member of the Hanover school committee for three years. Carlee Pitcher was elected as town clerk, tax collector and treasurer. Mrs. Pitcher is succeeding her mother, Barbara Merrill, who did not seek re-election.

Voters increased town officers' salaries and in all other money articles raised amounts recommended by the selectmen. Selectmen reported that taxpayers could expect larger tax bills this year due in part to increased education costs (amounts raised in the June 9, 1986 School Budget Meeting). Loss of revenue sharing funds, and a need for funds to help rebuild the first bridge on the Howard Pond Road.

This year's Hanover Town Report was dedicated to Hilda Chase who died Aug. 7, 1985. She was the wife of Third Selectman Raymond Chase, had been a ballot clerk, served on the Recreation Committee and was active in local functions.

Hanover Town Clerk, Tax Collector, and Treasurer Carlee Pitcher reports that her office will be located at Hanover Village Store. Office hours will be Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on weekends call 864-4777 to find when Carlee will be available for town business.

Plans are underway for the annual Halloween Party at the Knights of Pythias Hall in Hanover. Area youngsters will be invited to the Oct. 31st party and volunteers as well as donations are needed to help out. For further information call Linda Couture at 364-7968, Gail Worcester at 364-7846, or Donna Worcester at 364-7895.

How pretty the trees are across the road. As I sit here to type, I can't help but notice them as I look out the window. So many colors on the maple trees that blend in with all the other colors. Mother Nature sure knows how to blend colors that no artist can copy, no matter how they try. Looks now as though the sun would shine and I hope it does. The colors are so much more brilliant when lighted by the sunshine.

Got to see the doctor last Thursday and got to have a change in glasses. Of course, the optician wasn't in so had to go back the first of the week to order the glasses. I stayed down with my daughter for a couple of days to help care for the children while we went to a work shop in Brunswick, got home on Saturday and then on Sunday, Russell, Peggy and I as well as Wynona, Mike and the girls, went to Fryeburg Fair. I couldn't keep up with Nonie and Mike and the girls all of the time so spent part of it sitting and resting my legs. They felt as though they would drop off. I got to the area where the pig scramble was to be and while waiting for the event, there was a young fellow with a pair of steers who showed what they could do. He sure had them trained good. He brought one of them in first, with that was like a bridle would be on a horse. The steer didn't do exactly as the boy wanted him to do but it was interesting to see that he did know which way the boy wanted him to go even if he didn't want to go that way himself. The steer was then hitched up with his mate and brought in to be hitched to a two wheeled cart and perform. However, before they were hitched up to the wagon, the boy maneuvered them around the ring where there were barrels for them to go around and while they were doing this, he rode on first one and then the other. It was quite a sight when he had them stand and crawled under their bellies and then under their necks. They stood so still for him. He then hitched them to the cart and had them go around the barrels as close as he could without hitting the barrels. He had them turn one way around the first barrel and then the opposite way around the other barrel. He showed how close to the boards he could come when backing them up and they minded very well. It was quite an exhibition to watch. It showed how much work the boy had put in training them to follow his commands and his stick.

The pig scramble was interesting as usual but much shorter as the pigs were not scattered as usual. They were all in a bunch in the center of the ring when the children were told to go get them and I don't think they knew what to do when they saw they children heading for them. Most of them didn't get a chance to run as the children were on them so fast. One or two got away and made a chase for the children but it didn't take long for all of them to be caught.

Had a good day at the fair but was glad when it was time to come home. My legs felt like lead and didn't want to move for me.

Have been busy this week going to the garage twice to have things done on the car. It was time for an oil change and they found other things that needed to be done so got it done. I didn't want fan belts to break out on the road or some of the other things go wrong.

Went to the garage on the morning on Monday and after lunch, Russell drove me to Lewiston to order my glasses. We didn't go shopping or anything as we were too tired after the outing at the fair on Sunday.

I have made some more pickles, with Russell's help, this week. Also we worked on squash and cooked, packaged it, and put it in the freezer. There was quite a lot of it to be done and peeling, taking out the seeds and getting it ready to cook takes a lot of time. It will taste good this winter when we want it and that is what we want. Working on a job like that cramps the muscles and makes them holler at one so have been lame from doing so much but keep going just the same.

Went to North Brighton on Wednesday to see my doctor who had returned from a vacation. Nonie came up and took me over so the doctor could see how Kariann was doing after the treatment he had given her before her vacation. It had helped her to move around better so hope this one will do still more for her.

Have been working on Christmas projects when I could but haven't gotten all done that I had hoped to. It takes me longer than it used to, much to my disgust. I wish I could work as fast as I used to be able to but have to face the fact that I can't.

I hadn't heard that Melva Greely Willard had been sick and died until I got the Citizen yesterday. I have many memories of her as she was my teacher when I started school as a very small child. She was Miss Greely then and a wonderful teacher. We were taught by flash cards then and I loved to work with them. It was one of the things she did with us small children and it helped us learn our words and arithmetic, also. Quite different than today. It was hard for the teachers to keep everything going smoothly with three classes in one room but they did their job well. The children today don't have to get up and speak a nursery rhyme every Friday in front of the classes as we went through school. I am sure there are many who remember Mrs. Willard as their teacher and the goodness she brought into their lives. She was a wonderful teacher and one who wouldn't be forgotten easily. It brings back many memories when we read a name of a person who has passed on but had such an influence of our lives. We may not have thought of them in years but the memories are there. I hope her family knows how much she was loved by the children she taught and the fond memories we all carry of the time spent in her care. God bless them all and may their lives be as rewarding as hers was.

I expect to have my youngest granddaughter brought to stay overnight with me so guess I better get busy and get things ready for her. Have a good week, one and all and enjoy the beauty surrounding you, while it lasts.

Gould Academy celebrates 150 years

MORE THAN 500 ALUMNI AND GUESTS gathered in the Gould field house for lunch and dinner last Saturday, as part of Gould Academy's sesquicentennial celebration. Headmaster Bill Clough assured them that the Academy's 150 years of dedication to education was serving as a benchmark and that the faculty and staff were re-dedicating themselves to excellent teaching. The watercolor painting of Hanscom Hall, by New Hampshire artist Herbert Waters, was presented at the luncheon. (It can be seen in front of the head table.)

ERIC WIGHT '59 AND HIS DAUGHTER JENNIFER '89 were given the honor of being the first to ring the original school bell, which now hangs in the Jane Greig Barth Memorial Bell Tower. The Wight family has sent six generations to Gould Academy.

THE JANE GREIG BARTH MEMORIAL BELL TOWER was dedicated last Saturday as part of Gould Academy's 150th birthday celebration, which came on the annual alumni day. More than 500 alumni and guests—from the Class of 1911 to the Class of 1987—took part.

NINETEEN MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1936 (whose graduation was overshadowed by the 100th anniversary of Gould Academy that year) received honorary 50-year diplomas in a ceremony Saturday night. Above, Phyllis (Davis) Dock gets a handshake from Headmaster Bill Clough and her diploma from the Alumni Association President Marcia McGee.

ALUMS FROM 1911 TO 1987 PARADED down Church Street last Saturday as part of Gould Academy's sesquicentennial celebration.

Locke Mills

By LORRAINE MILLS

Notice: The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary meetings have been changed to the fourth Monday of each month.

Sunday School started Oct. 5 at the Locke Mills Union Church at 10:30 a.m. Many parents and children attended church and the church service. Silver Leamon conducted a very moving and meaningful service which concluded communion and was designed to help people understand the development and reasons behind the way the church worships today. Phyllis Coolidge made a wall hanging of machine embroidery on cloth depicting the high points of the church. The harvest supper and sale held Saturday at the Locke Mills Church was very well attended. A sum of $338.56 was realized from the project and will be used for winter maintenance. The church is very appreciative of the coordinators, Elinor Beauchesne, Debbie Moody, Bev Melville, and all who helped by donating, cooking and/or eating.

Mrs. Bertha Flanders attended a baby shower at the South Paris fire station Sunday for Linda Hall, hosted by Mrs. Roy Moxey and Carole Moxey. Also attending were Mrs. Roy Martin and April, Mrs. Thelma Gaudet and Velora Kimball from this area and Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills spent Sept. 27 and 28 in Colchester, Vt., visiting their son, Ralph. Besides doing some sightseeing around the area of Lake Champlain and meeting some of his friends, they visited the IBM plant in Essex Junction where he works, attended the Community Bible Church Assemblies of God in South Burlington and had brunch at Ralph's guest at the Windjammer Restaurant. The foliage, especially through New Hampshire was at its peak for the year and made the trip up and back very enjoyable. They returned home Sunday night. Carolyn Chase took care of the animals while they were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gaudet were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Bertha Flanders.

Suzi Roy was home from her studies at Trinity College, Burlington, Vt., over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills visited Donald Mills Friday at his home in Norway and wished him a belated happy birthday.

The Greenwood Fire Department and Auxiliary were guests of the Woodstock Fire Department and Auxiliary at a supper Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mills attended an all-day work session at Praise Assembly of God in Mexico Saturday. The church is painting the building.

There were 11 members who attended the Greenwood Historical Society meeting Wednesday—most were at Fryeburg Fair. The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers for the coming year: president, Ellsworth Hathaway; vice president, Mellen Kimball; secretary, Barbara Dunham; treasurer, Lee Mills; trustees, Elsie Bennett and Louise Twitchell; and Mary Mills, corresponding secretary. It was voted to have a table at the Craft Fair. More will be discussed about this next month. It was voted that a carpenter will be sought to finish the work that was started on the building and had to be dropped due to the illness of the carpenter. Mary Mills furnished the refreshments. Barbara Dunham will furnish them next month.

If you have any news for the paper please try to get it to me during the week. For the next few weeks we will be busy at the church on Saturdays and will need to get the news in Friday night to the paper.

TRI-TOWN SPONSORING HALLOWEEN DANCE OCT. 11

Tri-Town Rescue is sponsoring a Halloween Dance Saturday, Oct. 11, from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. at the Jackson-Silver American Legion Post in Locke Mills. Northern Atlantic will provide the country, country rock and 1950s and 1960s rock and roll music. Costumes are welcome. Door prizes appropriate to the holiday will be given away. Refreshments will be provided by the auxiliary.

The proceeds of the dance go to the Tri-Town Rescue building fund. The auxiliary has raised $14,000 to date, with a goal of $20,000. Other fund-raisers for October include a baked bean and casserole supper Oct. 18 at the West Summer Grange Hall before the Old Parisians' Dance and accepting donations on a Thanksgiving Basket.

The Vocational Region 11 students have erected the outside walls of the rescue barn and are building the studs for the interior walls. The building is

ROUND ROBIN WINTER TOURNAMENT

Round Robin Contract Bridge is starting very soon. Those interested in playing this season should call Pearlina McMillin (824-2500) by Oct. 12. If you are interested and do not have a partner, let us know, also. An attempt will be made to fill that vacancy.

The Friday night social held at Joan and Norman Putnam's was great fun. Connie Thurston, Sue Crane, and Eveline Kimball were asked to be the directors for the coming year. As in the past, the games will be scheduled every two weeks. The evening ended with three tables of bridge in play. The "winner-take-all" was won by Cynthia Mason.

NEWS FROM BETHEL AREA Health Center

This is National Health Center Week. It is fitting that the week of Oct. 6-11 is National Health Center Week and Gov. Joseph E. Brennan has declared that time period Maine Community Health Center week as well.

After four years of hard work and planning the new Bethel Area Health Center is now a reality.

The new facility has an emergency room, lab equipment, additional examination rooms, a conference room, offices for visiting doctors, and will soon have x-ray equipment available.

The Bethel Area Health Center was created by community residents in response to the need for health care. They determined what specific health services should be provided locally, recruiting health professionals and coordinating health services. In addition to traditional medical services, the health center provides programs in the areas of mental health, substance abuse, family planning, women and children, elderly services, etc., where the need exists and where there is a strong community commitment to seeing that the need is met.

After a week of hard work the new facility is beginning to look lived in.

The staff at the health center would like to extend its appreciation to all who contributed both financially and physically in helping to make the move. If it were not for the community, the health center would not exist as it is today. The Bethel Area Health Center hopes to serve the community for many years to come.

Dan Cole from Gilead; Mr. and Mrs. Vic Aubut, Gorham, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swan and son, Chad, from Turner; Mrs. Paula Newell, Oxford; Robert Belanger, Bethel; Mrs. Sheila Fleet and son, Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gallant, Bethel; Marie Swan, Toots Sciaraffa, and Margaret Swan, hosts of the family reunion, and lastly from Connecticut were Mrs. Marie Martone and Miss Patricia Sherman of Stratford, Conn. A good time was had by all. The good food served by the hosts were enjoyed by all the guests.

A very special thank you to those who gave so unselfishly of their time and talents, decorating cakes and tables; to those who donated food; to our cooks, waitresses and clean-up crew, all of whom helped make the 1986 birthday supper such a huge success—our biggest and best ever! On behalf of the Ladies Aid Society, our sincere apologies to those who left due to the long waiting line. One can never anticipate the number who will attend, and although we had plenty of food, the dishwasher was backed up, making lack of place settings our major problem. Try us next year. We'll try hard to shorten the waiting time.

My niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blassey from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., called on us Saturday forenoon. They have been spending some time here in Maine visiting friends and relatives and seeing some of the coastline. They will be returning to Florida later this month, after a stop in Michigan.

Mrs. Helena Goodwin was given a surprise birthday party Saturday afternoon, Sept. 27, at her home in East Andover, arranged by her sister, Myrna DeRito, her daughter-in-law, Ellen Carey, and her two daughters, June Roy and Linda Brown. The birthday cake, shaped like a car, was brought by Myrna DeRito. Lunch was served and many gifts were presented, including a money tree. Attending were: Bessie Churchill, Mexico and her daughter, Tootie Hines, of Livermore Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robichaud, Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Brown and daughters, Wanda and Tammy, East Wilton; Myrna DeRito, East Wilton; Mark Harris, Temple; Merle Witas, Mexico; Mrs. Ellen Carey and son, Erwin, Mexico; Mrs. June Roy and son, Matthew, South Rumford; Mrs. Patty Brown and daughters, Casey and Lynsey, East Andover; Mrs. Marilyn Morton, Kevin and Karen, East Andover; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stinson, East Andover, and Rev. Mariotte Churchill, Andover. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Weston, Rumford, sent a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Fyrberg are receiving congratulations on the birth of a third daughter, Monday, Sept. 29. She weighed six pounds, four ounces and has been named Jasmin Areannah. She was welcomed home by older sisters, Jennifer and Jillian. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fyrberg, East Andover, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nevel, Andover. Mrs. Vivian Barlow is enjoying a visit from her son, George Barlow, of Thailand.

Mrs. Agnes Avery, Kennebunkport, with daughter, Bunny Nutter, and Betty Hammel, visited her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hutchins, and Bernard Hutchins in East Andover this week.

Mrs. Priscilla Smith of Brunswick and Mrs. Merna Allen from the Bath Nursing Home called on Mr. and Mrs. Basil Hutchins, and a dooryard call on Bernard Hutchins on Thursday.

A correction in last week's column—David, Vicki and Andy Hutchins were riding their bikes—not hiking—around the 8 mile square.

I visited my daughter, Mrs. Lorena Cobb on Wednesday. Mandy, Calla, and little Preston accompanied me to Gorham, N.H., shopping. The we "ate out" before returning home. That is a big

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dunn were guests of the Bergerons recently.

As I write this a flicker has just flown into the maple tree, searching for grubs. For three days we have had only the bluejays with their noisy call. Must be the other birds are attending a convention somewhere else. Bernard is busy roto-tilling the garden where he can. We canned tomatoes last week. This week it was freeze celery. The shallots, onions, blab bulbs, and dahlia bulbs, have been dug and dried when the sun would shine. The windowbox has been emptied, now that Jack Frost did in the tuberous begonias, and everything is taking on the look of Fall setting in.

If everyone else had problems same as we did ripening tomatoes I'll pass along what worked for us. Bernard wrapped each tomato in newspaper and put them in a flat box (several of those boxes, in fact) and put them under the bed. In a few days that started ripening, so they do need to be checked on every day or two. As he found ripe ones, he removed them and wrapped other green ones to take their place. It has worked great for us. Another way is to place the green tomatoes in a brown grocery bag with an apple, which we tried last year. That also

MIDDLE SCHOOL PARENTS GROUP MEETS

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 16, seventeen parents of Telstar Middle School students gathered for the first meeting of the 1986-87 school year.

The discussion opened with introductions and an "ice breaker"—many folks brought up topics and ideas that will become hopeful goals for coming meetings. Some questions among those present were "What position do we as a parent group take? How are we going to best be able to fit in—and in what ways can we most benefit that school itself and the young students in it?"

Those present decided that definite goals must be set and that the group must make them talkable, but be able to apply them. There many resources available on the community and the district.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 7 p.m. in the Telstar Library.

Some of the items on the agenda are: preparations of the fall open house; information, on the Spanish Student Exchange initiated by the Rotarians; upcoming events at Telstar and Gould; information provided by Marguerite Graham on the Mahosue Arts Council, and activities that may be set up and/or sponsored by this group to do with academics, sports, or whatever.

Please come, be interested in what is going on in the Telstar Middle School and your child's part in school life there.

NOTES FROM Telstar Guidance

Last Wednesday, Oct. 1, 30 seniors attended the College Fair at the University of Southern Maine in Portland. Over 125 university, business, vocational and technical admissions representatives were present. In following up with the College Fair, college bound seniors will be able to attend two college preparation workshops provided by Mr. Hart, later this month.

The guidance office has the services of the Guidance Information System (GIS), again this year. College, vocational school, military, occupational, scholarship, and career planning files and reference materials are available from the new 1986-86 GIS program. Mr. Hart is looking to train interested high school students as GIS aides. The GIS aides will be valuable in assisting their peers, as well as faculty and community members with various career inventories. Juniors and seniors will receive a refresher presentation of the GIS. An orientation of career decision-making and GIS use will also be available to freshman and sophomore students. The GIS will be available for immediate use on Wednesday, Oct. 8.

TRHS seniors are reminded that the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB), will be administered on Thursday, Oct. 16. The ASVAB, a career decision-making and skills test provided by the military, is intended for all seniors. Students taking the ASVAB will gain more awareness of their vocational skills, academic strengths, and limitations and career planning options. The ASVAB will be offered at the TRHS lecture hall, at no cost, on Thursday, Oct. 16. Interested seniors are to sign up in the guidance office.

The guidance office has re-evaluated and revised two specific services: student progress notes and peer tutoring, this past summer.

There are many parents wanting student progress notes—a service usually offered by Telstar Regional High School. Aside from the guidance office's "progress notes" and mailing, other options are: open house conferences, telephone calls; notices from teachers and student initiated progress notes/checklists. Some options aren't consistently utilized.

Therefore the guidance office is working with several faculty members in devising a workable progress note form for parents, teachers, and students. Weekly progress notes are not always realistic for the teacher or guidance office to offer. Nor are weekly progress notes making the student responsible and/or accountable with his/her parents. The guidance office will coordinate this form with teachers and parents.

Peer tutoring is a popular and rewarding program, both for the tutor and student being tutored. This year senior Linda Learned, who will coordinate the Peer Tutor program, with Mr. Hart's assistance. Posters, with available peer tutors and their subject preferences, will be on display in school. Linda and Mr. Hart will publicize and implement peer

Rebel soccer team better Buckfield, 6-2

The Telstar varsity soccer team defeated Buckfield last Friday.

Scott Haines opened the first half with a goal on an assist from Tommy James. The Rebels then got two more goals—one by Gary Williamson, with an assist by Brant Remington, and one by Remington assisted by Williamson.

Haines then scored two unassisted goals, as did Ken Viger. The Bucks, in losing their second game to the Rebels, managed just two goals.

The Rebels, going into this week's games, had a 6-5 record. The JV's played Oak Hill following the varsity contest. The visitors struck quickly in the first half. There wasn't any scoring after that until the second half.

Danny Thurston scored the lone Rebel goal with five minutes left to play. But Oak Hill came right back to notch their second marker—and the win, 2-1.

Danny Thurston and Nathan Brown were named the twelfth player of the game.

Notes from Adult & Community Education

A new feature of SAD #44 Adult and Community Education this year is the availability of guidance services for adults. It is possible for adults to receive help with identifying areas of interest and ability, investigating opportunities for furthering their education, and help in refining job seeking skills. Such tasks as writing a resume, or completing application forms may bring an adult to the SAD #44 program. Merrill Bittner will, be available on Tuesday mornings at the Bethel Library and on Tuesday evenings at Telstar. Anyone interested in making an appointment should call the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

GED preparation is available during the day at the Bethel Library on Tuesday mornings. Adults wishing to work toward their diploma may enroll at any time during the year, and will be given the Practice Test, which identifies areas needing brush up. Special books are available, and, beginning in late October, there will be televised GED preparation series on Channel 10 several times a week. The materials which accompany the television series are available at the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office. Please call for further information.

Ann Holt of the SAD #44 Adult Education staff, and Felix Otero-Otero of the SAD #17 program, as well as Director Cathy Newell, attended the 1986 Adult Education Conference held at the Atrium Conference Center in Brunswick on Sept. 26-27. Mrs. Newell has been selected to serve on a Special Task Force to provide GED preparation and testing for the Maine National Guard and attended initial training for the project on Oct. 3 in Orono.

The Land Use Planning class, co-sponsored by SAD #44 Community Education and the Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments (AVCOG), met for its first session on Oct. 1. There were 42 people registered from 10 area towns. The next session of the class will be on Oct. 15 and will cover types of ordinances towns may enact to guide growth. It is possible to join the class for the second and third sessions.

The workshop on Keeping a Few Animals for Home Use has been postponed until January, due to conflicts in the instructor's schedule. The Cake Decorating Class has been rescheduled for later in October, on Monday nights starting Oct. 27. Anyone who would like to join should call the Adult Education office.

An open letter from Representative Jeff Mills to the voters of District 49

Dear Friends:

Working for you as State Representative for the past three years has been a privilege, and it is a job that I love. I have attended meetings throughout the district, sought your opinions in person and through surveys, and have worked hard to produce results on the issues which you have told me concern you most—Roads and Highways & Nuclear Waste Disposal. I have also been concerned with many other issues of special concern to individuals or groups in our area, and I hope to be able to continue my work should you re-elect me on November 4.

I was successful in gaining appointment to the Transportation Committee this past session and I think you will be pleased with the results. Funding for road improvements in our area increased from $734,600 to $1,882,215. Dana Connors, Commissioner of Transportation, visited our area frequently at my invitation and local officials were able to demonstrate our needs.

I worked to keep the public informed on the critical issues of nuclear waste disposal, and our collective voices kept waste out of Maine.

I helped keep your taxes down by returning over $225,000 to area towns.

As I visit you during the weeks before the election, I look forward to visiting with you and discussing ways I can continue to assist you in your business with state government.

Sincerely,
Jeff Mills, State Representative

Rep. Jeff Mills: a strong voice for Western Maine
District 49: Albany, Avon, Bethel, Byron, Gilead, Hanover, Lincoln Pk., Lovell, Magalloway, Mason, Newry, Rangeley, Rangeley Pk., Sandy River, Townships D & E, Unorganized Territory, Upton, Watford, Weld.

Paid for by Committee to Re-Elect Jeff Mills,
Cathy Newell, Box 65, Bethel, ME 04217, Treasurer.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

Fryeburg Fair has had a good week weatherwise except for a sprinkle on Thursday but the fair went on. The foliage was worth the trip. Joe and Evelyn Vatcher were unable to go to the fair due to sickness in the family and babysitting, but we thought of all the people there and the horses running and winning many dollars for the bettors.

Joe Vatcher carried his niece, Rhoda Labbe, to St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston Tuesday noon. Corrie is staying with the Vatchers and David is staying at his home and Rosalie Anderson is with him, also she babysits the two babies that Rhoda cares for days.

Arnold Coffin will not have any tube feedings for a month and then if all is well he will have the tube removed. It is a very expensive deal when one hires a feeder and the formula. He is doing just fine, and puts molasses on everything.

Joe Kalinoski went to Stephens Memorial Hospital for ear skin graft on Sept. 22 and Sept. 26 he went for tests.

The Community Club supper went just fine and we tried a new deal.

Callers at Lawrences: Pete Collette and Barry, Arnold Coffin, Brenda LaCroix, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Jeanne Millett and her two grandchildren, Amanda and Jeremy Heath. Doris went to Fryeburg Fair with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr. and Herman Bean Tuesday. They had a lovely day. Saw everybody.

"Root" and Doris Lawrence went to Lee Dean's for the day Sept. 28. Bountiful dinner and a beautiful day, with 20 friends.

Community Club meeting was held at the home of President Joe Vatcher Oct. 1. Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. The next supper will be held on Nov. 1 from 5-6 p.m. West Paris Grange is putting in a supper to benefit Tom Elliott on Oct. 26 so we will move ours up a week. Tom, our hardware man, fell from a ladder and is gaining slowly. Our supper will be a baked ham supper, mashed potatoes, squash, peas, salads, pies, coffee, and punch. Voted to send a thank you card to Ellis Ellingwood for the installation of the ceiling fan.

Robert Anderson Sr., Burlington, Vt., spent the day Wednesday at Joe Vatcher's for rabbit hunting and he shot a rabbit also picked apples at Cooper's for his own use.

Corrie McLaughlin, 12 years old, doesn't like school, so his marks were poor. He

FREE FOOD DISTRIBUTION IN BETHEL OCT. 9

In cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Oxford County Community Services will distribute cheese, rice, butter, flour and powdered milk at the Mundt-Allen Post American Legion Hall in Bethel, on Thursday, Oct. 9, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The food supplies come from surplus storage of the U.S. Government and will be available to low-income families meeting income guidelines including households eligible under the following programs: Home Energy Assistance HEAP, Elderly Tax and Rent Refunds, Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Food Stamps, Elderly Drug Card, Medicaid Card or Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

A family of two or less will receive one pound of butter, five pounds of processed cheese, two pounds of rice and five pounds of flour. Larger families will receive increased amounts of cheese, rice, flour, and powdered milk.

USDA food distributions are made three or four times each year. In 1985 Community Service workers with the help of 162 volunteers distributed 108 tons of surplus food to low-income families in Oxford County.

SENIOR CITIZEN MENUS

Monday, Oct. 13: Holiday, Columbus Day.

Thursday, Oct. 16: Beef chow mein, carrots, roll, cookie.

decided he'd rather work than go to school so Uncle Joe got him a job picking up drop apples at Cooper's from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. After the second day he changed his mind and decided school wasn't too bad and his grades this week have been good but he still has to work weekends and from 3:30 to 5 p.m. after school. He has eaten a bushel of apples since Saturday, Sept. 27, and takes an apple each day to his teacher and he hasn't gained an ounce. Howard Anderson also works for Cooper so he sees that Corrie works at all time except for coffee breaks.

Joe Kalinoski was minus electrical power one day this week but the power company could find no trouble at the farm. They checked the transformer on a pole near the Route 219 Garage and found a red squirrel had got into the box and cooked and it blew a fuse. Everything under control now.

By MIRIAM INMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Ellingwood returned Monday after spending a week with their daughter, Shirley Barnes, and family in Kirkville, N.Y.

William Edmunds returned home from the hospital on Friday. Ernest Cyr is also home from the hospital.

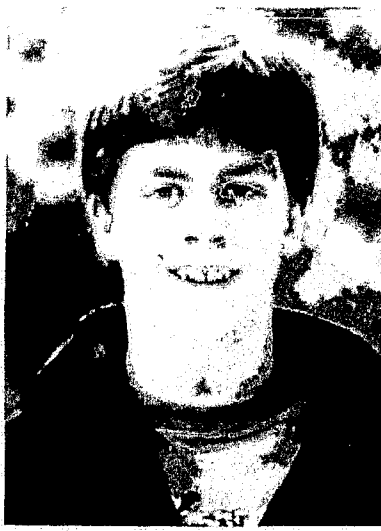

Plans are being made for a benefit supper on Saturday, Oct. 25, for Tom Elliott. This is a community sponsored project and anyone wishing to help, may notify Mary Lovejoy or Miriam Inman, two of the committee members.

The Universalist Church Youth Group is being very active. This past weekend five members and their leader attended the Youth Conference at Ferry Beach in Saco. Glen Turner was the conference speaker. Those attending were Liz Young, Saara Liimatta, Stephanie Emery, Ricky Chase, Jon Kirchner and leader, Marta Clements. Walking on the beach and getting acquainted with youth from other groups made for an enjoyable time. Weather permitting, the group will be climbing Molloykett Mountain on Sunday where the view will be gorgeous this fall foliage season. On the 11th the group will be assisting at the Pumpkin Sale, and on the 18th they will be conducting a bottle drive to earn money so they may attend the Christmas Concert at the Portland City hall. If no one calls at your home and you have bottles to donate, you may call Marta Clements or Bob Kirchner to have them picked up or they may be left at the church on Sunday mornings.

The committees for the Shop 'n Save supper to be on Oct. 8 are now complete. The dining room workers will be Judy and Nina McLaughlin, Lempi Cyr, Cindy Kirchner, Peggy Perham and Mary Emery. Getting the tables set up will be Bob and Jon Kirchner and on clean-up detail Vince and Beverly Stevens and Vernon Inman.

Pumpkins, food, and "white elephants" will be on sale Saturday, Oct. 11 in front of Emery's Building Materials at Trap Corner, for the benefit of the Universalist Church. Sale begins at 10 a.m. Items for all tables will be greatly appreciated and may be delivered to either Martha Day or Mary Emery. If anyone wants items to be picked up they may notify one of them.

The Goodwill Group and Forward Fellowship are having a 6 p.m. supper on Tuesday, Oct. 14, at which time all the

By MARTA CLEMENTS

The annual open house was held Sept. 29 and was well-attended. We also hope it was informative. Classroom teachers and specialists were available to explain what goes on day-in and day-out, discuss expectations in regard to homework, as well as daily work, and to talk about various other activities.

School pictures have been taken, after-school soccer sponsored by the YMCA is in full swing, and Girl Scouts and Brownies have begun with over 20 girls signing up. Two new leaders will be initiated this year: Carol Corriveau, of West Paris, and Lori Mason, of Woodstock.

Our first school newspaper of the year has been published. Each grade and the special classes submit one or two pages of news and the sixth graders, under the direction of Mr. Koch, do the organizing.

From the newspaper we learned that the second-graders have been studying about animals getting ready for winter. They've also been learning why plants make seeds and have created a bulletin board showing many different kinds of seeds.

Karen Yates, of Grade 2, found a monarch whose wings looked a bit underdeveloped. She brought it to the fifth grade, where it was checked out, tagged, and sent merrily on its way.

Austin Hays, Grade 3, also supplied the fifth grade with a monarch. Over 30 monarchs have been tagged and about 20 pupae remain to develop. Another successful butterfly year!

The kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Brown, will be offering a math workshop to teachers of the lower grades in SAD #17. It is called "Math Their Way" and has proven to be an excellent teaching approach. Many projects and hands-on activities make up the thrust of the program. The countdown to 100 days of school is well in progress and will be celebrated in grand style in about two months.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Last year we started a school volunteer program. We found that it was quite successful. The students benefited from the extra time. The volunteers enjoyed their involvement with the students and the school. The teachers greatly appreciated the assistance. This year we are also planning to have a support group for the volunteers of our schools.

THIS WEEK AT THE
Moses Mason House

The October monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society featured the annual "What's It." Among the two dozen unusual items brought in for discussion by the audience was a fleam, which has several sharp lancets used in medicine to prepare a patient for bleeding, a common practice in the 18th and 19th centuries. Prior to this portion of the program, a film "A Little Rebellion Now and Then" was shown which focusses on Shay's rebellion, one of the significant events leading to a convention in Philadelphia that produced the U.S. Constitution. Following the "What's It," another film, "A Glorious System of Things" was shown which dealt with the knowledge of science that was prevalent in the 18th century.

During the business portion of the meeting President Alden Kennett thanked the Building Committee for all their work in coming up with a new color for the Moses Mason House barn which was recently painted a color Benjamin Moore calls "Cottage Red." This color was felt to more accurately reflect a Maine setting than the "Hacienda Gray" stain that has been on the structure since 1974. The president also announced that the next meeting would be held Nov. 6 and will feature Margaret Joy Tibbetts, chairman of the society's Board of Trustees, discussing the history of the once flourishing town of Grafton. It was also announced that Homecoming Weekend was to be held at the Dr. Moses Mason House Oct. 4 and 5, featuring a large variety of harvest decorations. Curator Randall Bennett announced the "Artifacts of the Month" as a large number of items donated by Roberta Peavey, Hampton Falls, N.H., that once belonged to Thirza Gibson in whose memory they were presented in the society. Mr. Bennett also reported on a number of areas in the collections in regard to the society. The society is currently assembling a surname card file of names and addresses of researchers and the family names they are investigating. Mr. Bennett brought those present up to date on the society's archival collections. There are now 137 manuscript boxes of letters, journals, diaries, brochures, etc. The society now has over 350 Maine town histories and 164 microfilm reels of area newspapers, town records, census records and tax records. There are copies of vital records relating to the towns of Bethel, Albany, Mason, and Gilead. More than 70 tapes have been produced to date containing a wealth of oral history and most have been transcribed to assist researchers. Also contained in the society's collections of books on Maine history and biography, a number of maps and atlases, several card files of Bethel area newspaper obituaries, cemeteries, news items (1895-1950) and nearly 10,000 slides of old photographs relating to western Maine and the White Mountains.

Society Director Stanley R. Howe reminded those present of the Oral History Workshop on Nov. 1 at 2 p.m. in the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room. He also encouraged anyone interested to attend the New England and the Constitution series currently being held at the Bethel Library. The director also read a letter from Linda Robinson, assistant professor of nursing at the University of New Hampshire, who is currently investigating the experience of childbirth during the period 1890-1949 in New England. She expressed interest in finding women's diaries, letters, family bibles, or other written or oral materials

NEW INNKEEPER IN TOWN, Sally Rollinson, recently held an open house to inaugurate the opening of her Hammons House bed and breakfast, the former Burt and Louise Newton residence, on Broad Street, Bethel. Ms. Rollinson moved to Bethel from Cambridge, Mass., during the summer and has been making extensive renovations to the state home.

SEXUAL ASSAULT HOTLINE
VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

In an average month in Maine, 43 rapes are reported to rape crisis centers—22 acquaintance rapes, 5 stranger rapes, 1 marital rape, 2 gang rapes, and 13 incestuous assaults.

REACH, Rape Education and Counseling Hotline, is the local rape crisis center serving Oxford County. Hotline volunteers provide accurate information and emotional support to victims of sexual assault on a 24-hour-a-day basis. Calls to the hotline are from victims of past and present assaults—rape, incest, child molestation and sexual abuse.

If you can give some time each month to helping victims of sexual assault, REACH will train you to be a Hotline Volunteer. The next training program begins Monday, Oct. 27. An initial introductory meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 13, at the Bethel Area Health Center at 7 p.m. Applications for Hotline Volunteers will be available at that time.

Re-certification credits will be applied for; completing the training and volunteering for six months would entitle a teacher to three credits. For more information, please contact Debbie Dembski, REACH Coordinator, at 743-2066.

Regular meeting of Jackson-Silver Post and Unit #68, American Legion and Auxiliary, Locke Mills, were held last Thursday night at 6:30, with a good attendance.

Plans were completed for the Boy and Girl State Banquet on Oct. 16 at 6:30. Dept. President Carolyn Barr of Bath and State Membership Chairman Theresa Owen of Bowdoinham, will be special guests. As will Girl Staters Gloria Bollo and Darlene Haskell of Bryant Pond. The girls and the Post's Boy Stater, Darren Prada, will give a short report. Their parents are invited to attend.

The Unit voted $70 to help in the formation of a little Brownie troop in Bryant Pond by Dottie Brown.

Kathy Bartlett has received a membership award for her year, and music chairman another award for the juniors' musical program. Membership now stands at 53 for 1986-87.

Cathryn Lovejoy was installed as first vice president to complete the year Lois George—who is transferring to another unit.

Oct. 27, at 12:30 p.m., is the third annual public card social, chaired by Mary Lyon. There will be special refreshments and prizes.

Leland Dunham installed Roger Hanscom to fill the office of chaplain for the post.

A surprise anniversary cake and ice cream was enjoyed in honor of Herb and Mary Lyon at the close of the meeting.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club held its regular luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn on Tuesday of this week. This meeting was a club assembly. Prior to the luncheon meeting the board of directors met at 7 a.m. at the Casco Bank to discuss and plan club business.

Visiting Rotarians and guests joining with the group Tuesday were: Bill Lowther, Bonton, N.J.; Chas. Feld, Marco Island, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Ersek, Anaheim, Calif.; Dr. Om Wadhwa, Rumford; Geo. Rice, Oxford Hills; Bill Taggart, El Stausebach, and Gil Robinson, from Wilmington, Del.

President Dave announced that the new meeting schedule will commence next Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 a.m., at Martha's Restaurant. To add a thought at this point—now that the meeting time has been changed to meet the work schedules of the vast majority, an increase in membership should follow. Also, the board of directors will meet on the first Monday of each month at 5 p.m. at the Casco Bank instead of Tuesday at 7 a.m.

Bob Saunders informed the club on the progress of the Student Exchange program. Meetings have been held to develop programs in support of this project. Much is yet to be done to insure a successful project.

John Todd has been appointed as the Polio Plus Project chairman of Bethel Rotary.
